N. Council Ready For Showdown On Soviet Ukraine's Charges With Vote Due Soon

By LARRY HAUCK
Lake Success, N. Y., Sept. 10.—The United Nations Security Council was ready for a showdown today on the Soviet Ukrainian charges against Greece, with a vote due on the complaint to be thrown out of court.

The United States has rejected Ukraine's contention that Greece was preparing for aggression against the United States, but has not stated which she will vote on the Australian motion.

Today's meeting was set for 4 p. m. when the Council hurriedly turned last night after hearing the surprise statements that had been made near a

Butchers In Most Cities Run Out of Meat As O.P.A. Price Ceilings Are Tacked On Again

Washington, Sept. 10.—(P)—Meat went back under OPA ceilings today—and housewives in many cities had to turn to poultry and fish markets to round out their menus.

Even the army, the world's biggest single customer, said it may have to do likewise unless the meat shortage abates.

The remedy being talked at the agriculture department is a possible price boost to encourage greater production on the farms, ranges and feed lots.

But no action appeared imminent.

The agricultural department—given the last word over such matters in the price control extension law—was unwilling to concede that a long and severe shortage is in prospect.

A spokesman said department meat experts think the meat famine may be over in a month or so and that in any event it is too early for any decision.

Officials admittedly were watching the meat reconrol program closely as a guide to the whole future of peacetime price controls.

The army told of its concern in an announcement by the quartermaster general's office that its meat buying in July, "due to the unfavorable price situation," totaled only 15,400,000 pounds, compared with 58,000,000 pounds bought in April.

By buying still off last month, officials said supplies on hand will permit customary menus to be served only through September.

Furthermore, the statement said that because army specifications are stricter than those for federal inspection meats intended for

Legal Action Is Planned To Oust Squatters

London, Sept. 10.—(P)—The ministry of works announced today that legal action would be taken to regain possession of the Duchess of Bedford house, seven-story apartment building occupied Sunday by squatters.

The invasion of private houses and apartments continued to grow, however, as Communist-led squatters settled in a score of private dwellings and buildings. The movement spread to Ealing, middle class western suburb where the Communist party announced four families totaling 20 adults and children moved into the houses.

An angry British brigadier general found three families, one with eight children, had taken possession of the $24,000 house he had just bought in exclusive Phillimore Gardens. He demanded his house back and the squatters' "local government" committee went into conference to decide whether to vacate.

The ministry of works said no further announcement would be made concerning the action on the Duchess of Bedford house. The government had requisitioned the house and it was in process of being turned back to its owners, the Prudential Assurance Company, when the uninformed tenants moved in.

The squatters dug in for a long stay in their luxurious dwellings, despite the threat of drastic government action and the bitter disapproval of neighbors.

Kidnaped Kansas City Child Back

Kansas City, Sept. 10.—(P)—Friendly three-year-old Madeline (Toby) Tobias is home today, extremely tired and covered with insect bites but otherwise none the worse for her exciting experience with a high-biking maid, who disappeared with her five days ago.

A rousing welcome awaited curly haired, brown-eyed Toby upon her arrival here last night in a chartered plane with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Tobias, to whom she had been returned earlier in the day at Terre Haute, Ind., where police found her in a humble home awaiting adoption.

The maid, 22-year-old Mildred Louise Everett, was held by the FBI at Terre Haute. She was picked up there soon after Madeline was found. A federal kidnapping charge here awaits the former inmate of the Ohio Girls' Industrial school, who told Terre Haute police she "loved the little girl and wanted her for my own."

PALESTINE IS PLACED UNDER STRICT SIEGE

More Than Third of Jewish Population Ordered In House Arrest By British Troops

THREE DEAD IN RIOTS

By CARTER DAVIDSON
Jerusalem, Sept. 10.—(P)—The curfew at Tel Aviv was lifted late today after the city's 200,000 Jewish residents had been under house arrest for 16 hours following a wave of terrorism in which three persons were killed, a number of others injured and heavy property damage caused.

Police and soldiers searched and questioned the Jewish residents during the curfew but there was no immediate report of arrests or discoveries.

The military continued to cordon off nearby Ramat Gan, a Jewish town of 5,000, which has been under curfew and a comb out since dawn.

Unofficial sources said 900 had been screened at Ramat Gan and that 30 had been detained for further questioning.

A number of bombs exploded during the night.

Approximately 8,000 troops poured into Tel Aviv at dawn to house search of that all-Jewish city, where two British officers were listed as killed outright in an explosion which damaged a government building.

Simultaneously units of the Sixth Airborne Divisions moved into the nearby village of Ramat Gan, cordoned off the streets and began screening all the 5,000 residents.

A British communiqué said that armed Jews were responsible for the blasts, which followed by 24 hours a widespread series of raids in which Palestine rail lines were cut in more than 50 places.

The spreading wave of violence coincided with the opening of British-Arab talks in London on the Palestine problem. All of Palestine was placed under a virtual state of siege and a strict curfew was imposed. Guards were strengthened around all government buildings.

Six persons were injured in last night's explosion in Tel Aviv, which claimed the lives of a British major and a police guard.

Both officers died in a blast which rocked the government information building and wrecked the major's nearby home. The major was shot in the shoulder in an unsuccessful attempt to drive off the armed band which placed the explosives. His wife was trapped in the wreckage of their home, but was rescued and taken to a hospital, where her condition was reported critical.

Kolman Cohen, senior Jewish officer in the Jaffa district, was shot in the shoulder when he rushed from his home in an attempt to halt the attack.

An official announcement said that another armed band held up a railroad crossing guard in Tel Aviv and placed explosives which blew up a signal box.

London, Sept. 10.—(P)—Prime Minister Attlee opened the London conference on Palestine today with the assurance Britain was not committed to the controversial British-American experts' plan to divide Palestine into a federal state of four zones.

Addressing Arab leaders, the United States decided to withdraw its plan, Dunn was quoted.

A French source, however, said the American proposals were withdrawn because of adamant opposition from the Russians, who would not budge from their view that they had given their approval in the council to the French and not the American line.

The detailed American line differed from the French at two points, near Gorizia north of Trieste, and near Monfalcone west of Trieste.

Discussion of his proposal interrupted the series of explanations begun yesterday by Dr. Ales Bebler of Yugoslavia on his nation's demands in altering the "French line" boundary approved by the Big Four Foreign Ministers Council for Italy and Yugoslavia.

Yugoslavia To Pay Indemnity Report Says

Washington, Sept. 10.—(P)—Undersecretary of State William L. Clayton said today that Yugoslavia tentatively agreed to the principle of paying an indemnity for the loss of five American lives in the forced crashes of two American planes last month.

Yugoslavia officials, in preliminary conversations with U. S. Ambassador Richard C. Patterson, have raised a question as to whether they should pay also for the loss of the planes, Clayton told a news conference.

The undersecretary—in charge at the state department in the absence of Secretary Byrnes and undersecretary Dean Acheson—said no conclusive agreement has been reached with Marshal Tito's regime on the reparations matter.

All that the state department had received from Patterson thus far, he said, has been the first official reaction to the Ambassador's preliminary presentation of the issue.

He added that the state department has indicated to Patterson the amount the United States believes suitable for the indemnity payment, but he declined to make the figure public.

Victims of Threatened Strike

(NEA Telephoto)
First victims of the power strike in Pittsburgh, even before the strike deadline arrived, were 8-year-old Geraldine Jackson and her father, James Jackson. The girl was burned when an oil lamp which her father was preparing for use when the power went off, exploded. He beat out the flames with his hands.

Deep-Water Ports On All Coasts Are Locked In Biggest Maritime Strike In History

BULLETIN

Washington, Sept. 10.—(P)—Striking AFL seamen snubbed a Wage Stabilization Board hearing today as owners of idle merchant fleets pleaded for the right to pay them more money.

J. B. Bryan, president of the Pacific American Shipowners Association, urged the board to reverse its ruling on seamen's wages which touched off a strike that has paralyzed all American ports.

The White House remained silent. Reporters asked Charles G. Ross, press secretary, whether President Truman "is sending any message over to the Wage Stabilization Board." He replied "No."

He gave a similar response when asked if there was any word at the White House on the maritime strike.

By the Associated Press
The nation's deep-water shipping remained strike-bound today, with export business completely shut down, while government agencies and shipping concerns considered the demand of CIO seamen for wage increases equivalent to any granted AFL sailors.

Joseph Curran, president of 90,000 National Maritime Union (CIO) workers, declared yesterday he would demand increases for his men matching anything won by AFL seamen, who went on strike after the Wage Stabilization Board ordered a cutback to $17.50 a month in AFL-negotiated raises.

The striking seamen are affiliated with the Seafarers International Union and the Sailors' Union of the Pacific. The AFL union originally negotiated raises with operators amounting to $22.50 monthly on the west coast and $27.50 on the east coast.

The CIO previously received a hike of $17.50 a month, the level to which the WSB had chopped off the AFL Seamen's pay boosts.

While the WSB met in Washington to reconsider the decision, deep water ports of all coasts remained locked in the biggest maritime strike in the country's history.

The U. S. Maritime Commission said that along the Atlantic coast 728 ships were tied up, an increase of 23. Spokesmen estimated that about 100 ships probably were strike-bound in gulf ports and 900 on the Pacific coast.

In New York, about 400 tugboats were tied up, joining 354 ships which have been dead in the water since Friday.

The failure of the tugs to move as a result of a walkout by members of the Maritime Division of the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) stalled incoming shipments of many commodities in the nation's largest port.

Meanwhile, the union considered a request of New York's Mayor William O'Dwyer to lift strike restrictions on coal, fuel, oil, food and building materials.

SEIZE GAMBLING OUTFIT

New Castle, Sept. 10.—(P)—Lawrence county court set Sept. 23 for a hearing on a petition for permission to destroy gambling paraphernalia seized in a raid at the New Castle Country Club last Thursday. ### COURT ORDER FORBIDS ANY ACTIVITIES MENACING LIVES AND WELL BEING OF CITIZENS

Directs Company As Well As Union To Enter Into Good Fide Negotiations To Work Out Sound and Permanent Labor Policy

SMOKY CITY AGAIN HEADS BACK TO NORMAL

Pittsburgh, Sept. 10.—(P)—A court order, stressing the public interest and welfare, brought a quick end today—at least temporarily—to a strike of electric power employees which had threatened paralysis of an 817-square mile area embracing 1,500,000 people.

The order forbade any activities "which will imperil the lives, property, health and well being of the citizens."

Just as strikers were beginning to leave their posts to take up picket stations, Judge Walter P. Smart handed down the order directing the Independent Association of Employees of the Duquesne Light Company to "rescind any recall any order declaring a strike." It enjoined the union from "interfering with the operation of any auxiliary equipment of Duquesne Light Company," the City of Pittsburgh or any other suppliers of power. It forbade picketing.

The order, directed against the company as well as the union, ordered officers and directors of the utility "to enter into bona fide negotiations with the independent association and to work out a sound and permanent labor policy which will prevent the recurrence of disputes between them and their workers." The company was told to "render adequate and continuous power."

The city of Pittsburgh and its health director, Dr. I. Hope Alexander, petitioned for the injunction as business and industry was beginning to curtail operations in preparation for an emergency.

Some 1,200 street cars left their routes to help save power.

Today, all was headed back toward normal, with street car service resuming in the early morning hours.

The court's order came dramatically at the hour the strike officially got under way—12:01 a. m., to enforce union demands for a master contract covering nine operating companies associated with Duquesne, and a 20 percent wage increase.

President George L. Mueller of the union said he had postponed the strike on his own initiative in accordance with the court order, which directs the union and company representatives to a hearing Friday. The postponement, he said, was "until sometime after Friday." Members of a strike committee to whom the postponement was referred, said approval was a formality.

Mayor David L. Lawrence, haggard and worn from hours of labor as a volunteer mediator, took the case to the courts quickly after the union's general policy committee voted 42 to 9 just two hours before the strike deadline against submitting to the rank and file membership a company proposal to leave the problem to arbitration.

Power caused through the circuits without interruption and lights gleamed throughout the night in the strike area.

The steel industry, the big department stores and other businesses as well as home users of electricity had waited anxiously for days the outcome long drawn-out negotiations over the labor contract.

As the strike deadline neared, city and health officials moved quickly and decisively to assure a continuous flow of energy to hospital and like institutions.

The court papers in the case had been prepared before hand and judges waited at their homes for a call on their services.

Then, as Union President Mueller announced the decision of the policy committee reaffirming the intention to strike, the case went directly to the courts. Leaders of both union and company were served immediately and appeared for the hearings.

PENNSYLVANIA WEEK

Harrisburg, Sept. 10.—(P)—Pennsylvania Week has been officially proclaimed by Governor Martin to extend from Sept. 17 through Sept. 22. He said the week affords a new opportunity to re-emphasize the rich heritage which Pennsylvanians are privileged to share.

Philadelphians Mourn End Of Fairmount Park Trolleys

Philadelphia, Sept. 10.—(P)—Fairmount Park's last open air "Toonerville" trolley rolled to a halt early today, marking the close of another era close to the hearts of thousands who toured the picturesque park aboard the cars.

Some 150 amateur "Casey Jones" climbed aboard the last trolley shortly before midnight for the final ride marking the end of the 50-year-old scenic railway.

Most of the park trolley mourners were angry because the city and park permitted the line to be discontinued.

Several thought it nothing short of a calamity.

James Kelly of the National Railway Historical Society remarked: "When San Francisco tried to abolish its cable cars last year, the people put up a big howl and the trolleys were kept."

"But Philadelphia, what do they do about the wonderful park trolleys? Nothing, that's what. There's not a better eight cents' worth of transportation in the country than right here in Fairmount Park."

The State Public Service Commission granted the Philadelphia Transportation Company authority to operate busses over park routes after officials of the six-mile line protested the railroad had lost over $400,000 in the last decade.

Store Stocks Depleted By Truck Strike

New York, Sept. 10.—(P)—As chain store stocks neared exhaustion, the strike of 25,000 AFL truck drivers bit deeper into the New York metropolitan area's industrial life today, bringing plant shutdowns, layoffs and threatening to halt work on vast building programs.

Max A. Foley, president of the New York Building Congress, declared that work on hundreds of millions dollars worth of construction work in New York would be halted within a week for lack of supplies if the strike continued.

Other building spokesmen estimated layoffs already run in the thousands.

As a result of the emergency created by both the trucking strike and the walkout of AFL seamen, Mayor William O'Dwyer announced that 2,000 new patrolmen would be placed on duty next week.

The Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company announced it would close all of the 500 A & P stores in the New York area at the end of Saturday's business.

The Safeway Food Stores also announced it would close at least 240 of its stores. The National Sugar Refining Company suspended operations at its Long Island City plant, affecting 1,000 men.

Milk supplies, however, were reported "nearly normal" by E. O. Maher, secretary of the Milk Dealers' Association of Metropolitan New York, Inc.

Mayor O'Dwyer placed blame for the general situation on the union, Local 807, AFL International.

To Extradite Boy On Murder Charge

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 10.—(P)—A warrant for the return of 13-year-old Charles Hazlett, Jr., from Buffalo to Pittsburgh to face a charge of first degree murder was on the way to Erie County Sheriff Arthur D. Britt today.

Governor Dewey's office said Dewey had signed extradition papers yesterday after their receipt from Governor Martin of Pennsylvania.

The boy has been in Erie county jail since Aug. 27 when he told authorities he had "accidentally shot" Michael Gerrich, 12, last New Year's eve and hidden the body in the basement of the Hazlett's former Pittsburgh home.

Charles was visiting an aunt in Buffalo at the time on his arrest. He agreed to waive extradition, but Erie County Judge Hamilton Ward would not permit the move.

Unusual Accident Takes Four Lives

Altoona, Sept. 10.—(P)—An unusual accident claimed four lives yesterday, including those of a 36-inch-tall, 68-year-old midwife who was perched on a guard rail in front of a cemetery and an aged woman who died when she learned her son also was a victim.

State police said a truck swerved into a guard rail on which the midwife, Guy Slippey, was sitting at nearby Geeseytown, as the driver attempted to avoid striking a four-year-old boy on the highway. The truck then careened head-on into an automobile and overturned, crushing Slippey to death.

Two occupants of the car, Oscar Meyer, 72, and Hiram Lockard, 59, both of Altoona, died in the crash, which also injured Norman Glen Lockard, 10, and his brother Warren Dean Lockard, 4, other passengers. The elder Lockard's mother, Mrs. Lillie Lockard, 86, fell dead of shock in her Altoona home when she was told of the tragedy.

ALBINO SQUIRREL
Those who attend the Warren
Field and Stream Club's Field Day at Wilder Field Sunday, Sept. 15th, may be fortunate enough to see a wildlife oddity which is not an animal. Black and grey squirrels are quite numerous on the grounds and there is one pure white albino squirrel. Albino squirrels are quite rare and the one living on the grounds is a very large and fine specimen.

Jamestown Pilot Denies He Is After Franchise Here

 The rumor that John Jachym, owner of the Jamestown PONY League Falcons, had applied to the Middle Atlantic League, a Class
"C" circuit, for the Warren franchise was definitely spiked last night when Jachym assured a representative of the Times-Mirror that the rumor was unfounded.

 It had been reported by a New York State sports columnist and reprinted by other papers in the district that Warren, DuBois and Altoona were to be added to the Middle Atlantic League to make it an eight-team wheel. Jachym was to have Warren and Harry Bagger, former Falcon owner, was understood to be bidding for either the DuBois or Altoona franchise.

 The Times-Mirror got in touch with Jachym last evening and the ex-Marine captain frankly said that there was no foundation for the story.

 "I guess everyone would like to put a team in Warren," he said,
"but it's fantastic to suggest that I or anyone else is planning to franchise Warren in 1947. Where would we play? In a tent?"

 "Organized baseball has its eye on Warren—that is a well known fact. If a field is ready for play in 1948—and I understand that is the very earliest that one can be expected—I imagine there will be a mad scramble. Until facilities are available, it is useless to consider it."

 Owner Jachym also commented on the support which the Falcons have received from Warren baseball fans.

Details For Field Day Will Be Discussed

 The regular monthly meeting of the Warren Field and Stream Club will be held Thursday, September 12, at the Veterans of Foreign Wars at 7:30. Most of the evening will be given to final details for the Field Day to be held Sunday the 15th at Wilder Field.

 This annual outing is of real interest to the members of the Club as well as to the general public in general. It provides a day or outdoor activities appealing to all age groups—and covers all outdoor sports.

 The public is cordially invited to participate and there is no charge for admission to the grounds or the exhibits.

Mizak Nears Recovery From Slight Wounds

 Andrew Mizak, now lodged in the county jail charged with the slaying of John Kalinski, near Blue Eye some days ago, is now about completely recovered from the two bullet wounds in his left shoulder. According to the story told police Mizak inflicted the wound himself following the shooting of Kalinski. He spent some time in the Warren hospital after the shooting and was not taken to the jail until danger of infection had passed.

 Mizak will be given a hearing on a charge of murder next Saturday before Justice of the Peace T. M. Greenlund. The original date of the hearing had been set for September 11, but due to the fact that investigating officers could not appear at that time a change was made. Now the date has been set upon request of Mizak's attorney.

Labor Dispute Is Adjusted Satisfactorily

A statement from the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, CIO, Local 652 of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, CIO, announced that it had won its demand for an 8 1/2% per hour wage increase from the Solar and Sunray Electric Companies. This increase brings the total wage increase up to the national wage pattern of 18 1/4% per hour. In addition, a shift bonus of 5c per hour was negotiated for Solar employees. Both companies ended their lockouts against their employees and agreed to rehire all employees without any discrimination.

After a lockout that lasted more than two weeks the union won its original demand without any strings attached in regard to increased production, incentive plans and other forms of speedup. Both companies originally ordered the employees to check out and go home because production standards demanded by management were not being met. Production standards remain unchanged at both plants.

At Sunray Electric, the company and the union agreed to a time study by the Trundle Engineering Company. This time study must be approved, in all production standards proposed, by the union. The Company stipulated before the Federal Conciliator that it understood that any changed production standards will be based on the principle of more earnings for more effort. Grover Stainbrook, the Conciliator, assisted the parties in both plants.

Final achievement of the total 18 1/4% wage increase in these plants brings the US record to 100 percent for Warren plants it has under contract; they include Sylvania, DeLuxe Metal and Penn Furnace and Iron Companies. All these plants have paid the 18 1/4% increase.

Negotiations were conducted by UE Organizer Grace Coyle and by negotiating committee consisting of Mary Ellen Anderson, Katherine Lingo, Rose Pelligrino, Jane Ustach, Flora Schanz and Venora Simpson, and Clarence Zerbe. UE District Representative Steve Rosner assisted.

Beautifully designed for top performance, the new gas ranges have fully automatic controls and lighting, giant burners for extra speed, simmer burners for "waterless" cooking, smokeless broilers and roasts with extra heavy insulation for cooler cooking comfort. And gas is so economical! The average family cooks with gas for less than a dollar a month.

The new gas refrigerators are streamlined gems of modern styling... designed for maximum storage and freezing space, with plenty of ice cubes. ### REGISTER THIS WEEK

Elsewhere in this issue announcement is made of special plans made by county officials to accommodate residents who are not qualified to vote at the general election November 5th. Registration and the exercise of the voting franchise rise above partisan considerations. Far more important than the expression of party preference is the implied assumption of civic responsibility.

To accept new registrants moving from one district to another requires an established residence of at least sixty days prior to election. The announcement says that the registration office in the court house will be open tomorrow from nine a. m., until five p. m. and Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the office will be open from nine a. m., until nine p. m. Special registration will be taken in the Fourth ward polling place Wednesday from twelve to one and from three until six p. m.

This is considered one of the most important election years in the history of the country, and according to reports, non-voters are beginning to realize this fact. America should never be a land of minority government. The will of the majority should prevail, but far too many people fail to vote and in consequence minority rule too frequently dominates the affairs of the country.

If you have not registered do not let this week go by without doing so, then you will have the privilege and opportunity to cast your ballot in November in one of the most vital elections.

HAZARDS OF FARMING

An old time rural wisecrack was: "You never get rich on a farm, but it's safe."

Today, a nationally distributed magazine reminds, farming has become one of the most dangerous of occupations. Farm occupational deaths in 1944 accounted for 25% of all industrial occupational deaths. Out of every 100,000 farm workers, 53 died from accident in-occurred doing farm work.

Last year, non-fatal but disabling accidents happened in more than 900,000 farm homes. A half million other non-fatal accidents happened to farm people on and off farms.

As in industrial accidents every farm accident has a cost tag attached, and while the farm safety record is getting worse the industrial record is improving. Steel, once considered high on the dangerous list, now ranks fifth safest. Farmers could well take a tip from industry's efforts.

With approximately 25,000 boys and girls sworn in as members of School Safety Patrols throughout the state in the AAA safety campaign for school children in connection with the start of the new school term, R. B. Maxwell, secretary-manager of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, requests motorists to pay strict attention to signals from these youngsters. You'll see them in Clarendon, Sheffield and Youngsville. They deserve the cooperation of every vehicle driver.

With announcement that a muskie hatchery will be located by the State Fisheries group at Union City another step is being taken in making this the best outdoor state in the Union. The forests are filled with game and the streams have plenty of fish. However it is desired to make Pennsylvania's stream a paradise for fishermen. Warren county has a keen interest in this movement as with the streams of the state cleaned up under the state program the Allegheny river is bound to become one of the finest fishing streams in the country.

Never in the history of the county have the rural roads been in such fine shape as at present. A drive out over the earth roads is a delightful experience and within the next two or three weeks the colorful leaves will add much to the beauty of this section.

People of the county who have rooms available for hunters during the deer season should lose no time in listing their accommodations with the Warren Chamber of Commerce for inclusion in the booklet to be published.

Congratulations to Clarendon. With three new industries locating in that town business there is bound to take a new lease of life.

Traditional good fortune accompanied the Pennsylvania Railroad pileup during the night between Irvine and Youngsville.

Almost everyone agrees that Youngsville High won a moral victory by holding the Dragons to a scoreless tie at Russell Field Monday.

Astrid Cowden Announces "My Sister Eileen" Cast
Astrid Cowden, who has distinguished herself as director of a long list of Warren Players' most successful productions, announces today the cast for the clever "My Sister Eileen", the club's opening production.
That a show has been selected, placed in the hands of top-notch direction, cast and ready for rehearsal at such an early date, suggests that there is exceptional enthusiasm in Warren's "little theatre" this season, and might well indicate that the group can look forward to one of its best seasons.
The cast, which lacks neither qualitatively nor quantitatively, contains some of the Players' best veteran talent, as well as some very promising new players.
The role of Mr. Appopoulous will be played by Lewis Critelli; Ruth Sherwood by Ruth Jackson; Eileen Sherwood by Betty Greenland Anderson; Jensen, the handy man, by David Smith; two drunks, by Robert Specht and George Cunningham; The Wreck, by John Miner. Ken Graham is cast as Mr. Fletcher; Barbara Dunham as Helen Wade; Ervin Rader as Frank Lippencott; Nelson Johnson as Chic Clark; Bea Trax as Violet Shelton. Ken Knapp will portray Mrs. Wade. Fred Crickshank Robert Baker; Fred Plummer will be Walter Sherwood and Helen Morrow will be a prospective tenant.
While this covers the major speaking roles, the actual number of characters in "My Sister Eileen" is more or less suggestive of a box car number, and yet, there is not a single role that does not add to the sparkle and wit of this brilliant comedy.

Chest X-Ray Program

Preparations have been completed for a national anti-tuberculosis campaign to promote routine chest x-raying of all hospital personnel and of patients on admission, according to a statement made today by Guy O. McKinley, president of the Warren County Tuberculosis Society. In a message to hospital trustees and administrators, the national sponsors, The American Hospital Association, the U. S. Public Health Service and the National Tuberculosis Association, estimated that such a service among the 20,000,000 persons who annually enter hospitals and out-patient clinics would discover two to three times as many cases of tuberculosis as mass surveys among the general population. It was pointed out that many cases would be uncovered in the early stages, when the disease is most quickly and easily curable. "Most hospitals innocently harbor tuberculosis patients who are a grave menace to the physicians, nurses and other personnel, and to all the other patients with whom the tuberculosis patients come in contact. The only way the danger can be eliminated is the making of a chest x-ray of every patient admitted, and of every employee, the statement said. Approximately 15,000 informational kits, describing the need for the service, as well as methods and costs of establishing it, are being distributed by the three sponsoring organizations to hospitals, health officers of states, counties and to tuberculosis associations. Consultation facilities to aid hospital administrators in setting up x-ray routines will be provided by local and state health departments and tuberculosis associations and by field staffs of the U. S. Public Health Service.

Small boys, who reside in the vicinity started several small bonfires yesterday in the alley back of the Central Fire station and one in the basement of the building formerly occupied by the McCabe restaurant. Police last night interviewed the parents of the little fellows and warned them that the boys must not play with matches. Officers also shoved a painter's ladder truck off the sidewalk on Fourth avenue, near Liberty street. Boys had rolled the ladders out across the sidewalk.

RUSSELL FIELD CLASH ENDS IN 0-0 TIE FOR GRIDDEERS

RIGHT FIRST DOWNS SHOWS A CLOSE MATCH BETWEEN THE DRAGONS AND YOUNGSHIRE

Under a grueling sun the Warren Dragons and the Youngshire Gridders battled sixty minutes to a 0-0 tie yesterday afternoon after school on Russell field giving home fans the first use of the season to use their own tickets. The tie was the second in twenty years that Youngshire boys came that close to beating the locals.

The game went on pretty evenly throughout with each team having its first downs but with the locals holding an edge in the total yards gained and the yards lost. The Dragons were not clicking and Warren connected for only two out of ten tries and gaining only 16 yards on the completed ones while the Gridders got two out of ten and eleven yards on them.

Although the statistics show Warren held only a slight edge on the punting, it was widely noted that the local licks were kicking into enemy territory fairly and catching the opposition off guard. The same is true with the yards gained. The locals held the edge in yards gained but the Eagles team managed to sink Warren into enemy territory and enervate.

Warren's biggest disadvantage was a two fifteen yard penalty charged against them, both given to the Youngshires an extra first down and this giving the Eagles a push into local territory.

The locals held a big edge in the half keeping strong control of the ball and working it down to the 25, just two yards short of another first down, two already tallied in that first big push. Youngshire worked the ball a few yards and then were forced to punt, the kick being called back the first fifteen yard penalty given to the Youngshires a first down. Still no headway could be made as the Warren line held fast and the visitors were forced to punt. An exchange of punts took place and the Eagles ended up with the ball on their own 30 yard line, reverse play that netted the Youngshires nine yards gave Warren a first down, and the visitors tried working for another first, ran out and decided to punt, punt again being called back the Eagles again being given first down via the penalty throw.

The teams exchanged punts and the locals again worked the ball into enemy territory only to be held up on the 28 by two incomplete passes before the half ended.

Early in the second half Youngshire monopolized the ball, being kicked by "Kobby" Levison. Levison was the Youngshire star last year but has been out of action because of a pulled leg picked up during basketball season. He was not dressed during the first half but donned the uniform for his school during the thirty rest period between the halves and went into action to take a large share of the Youngshire carrying duties.

In that third quarter the Youngshires worked the ball into the eleven yard but bogged down there with four yards to go. Levison made a push for a field goal which was short low.

Each team had one more try for a score and each picked up three first downs in their effort to get but time ran out and the game ended with the Eagles on the local fifty yard line.

The game was very interesting in both teams playing steady high football and both teams digging out the field thoroughly, worked out and with a good afternoon's work behind them. Leonard, Duckett, and Lopez tied making some counting

THE MATERNAL INSTINCT

By Dorothy Staley

Chapter 6

AFTER Mamie Posey's funeral, Rose had said plaintively, "What's to become of Violet?" She could come with me. She'd be a real good help."

Lillie patted her shoulder. "Pud and me are going to look after Violet." She looked toward Pud. "Sure, Sure," he answered jocularly.

So Lillie arranged with one of the Bradford City school teachers to take Violet into her home. Lillie explained carefully to Miss Miller that she had plans for Violet. She was to finish high school and then go on to college. Looking at Lillie, Miss Miller was at a loss to understand her ambitions, but she promised to teach Violet the things she should know and to watch with whom she associated, and to see that her clothes were good and plain, but fashionable.

Lillie thought that Violet at fourteen was showing even more promise of great beauty than had her mother. Her hair was black and soft and curly and the blue of her baby eyes had deepened to the color of her name flower. The cheek that was brushed by the long lashes was pure ivory, and she was slender and dainty.

Lillie was very happy at the promise there was for Violet. She had even come, not without a twinge of conscience, to feel that her parents' death had been somewhat of a Godsend, since it meant getting Violet away from Juteville and into the proper setting. Sweet William had come to live with Lillie. Henry was off in the West somewhere and the only representatives of the Poseys left in Juteville were the rapidly multiplying Bradleys.

Lillie thought, was good. She liked the life around the house. She liked associating with the couples in the backroom in the evenings, and the stories that Pud brought her from the bar. In the next few years, between these stories and the tales which Sweet William, who had joined Bradford's police force, brought home,

Chapter 7

Lillie felt that she had her finger on the pulse of all Bradford City, and she liked the feel of it, its quickening that told her what the town was thinking and feeling and what the North End was reacting. She wouldn't let Violet come to see her often because a hotel, in the East End, was no place for a girl like Violet even though it was so big and prosperous as the Washington House, and the most respectable place in the entire country. Pud, as he would say, did not stand for any funny business around his place.

Then the war came and Sweet William enlisted. Later Lillie had a card from Henry telling her that he, too, was in the army. Henry was killed at the Battle of the Marne, and Lillie never ceased to be grateful to him. He had made his insurance payable to Violet. Violet was now not only in the environment Lillie wanted for her, she had money of her own. Violet had to have a guardian, but Lillie declined to serve or to have Pud do it. "What do I know about handling kids?" Lillie demanded, "with neither child nor child. I couldn't be a guardian." When Pud was suggested, she said gently, "Pud would be a good guardian for anybody's money because he's honest all the way through, but Pud has enough things to do. Let the bank take care of Violet's money."

So Violet became the ward of Eugene Sturm, the Trust Officer of the Bradford City National Bank, which August Bradford controlled, and his wife, Henrietta, who was Beatrice Bradford's second cousin, seeing Violet in the bank once day was fascinated by the girl's beauty and began to take a personal interest in Violet. Violet graduated from the Bradford City High School in 1918. She was voted the prettiest girl in her class and was chosen by the faculty to present the graduation program. Lillie was with a pride that was as agonizing as any pain as the academic procession with Violet in the lead wound its way through the grounds. But her pride was all for Violet.

It was all arranged that Violet was to go to school for a year to the junior college where the trust officer's wife had gone, and then after that to the University. Mr. and Mrs. Sturm gave a tea after the graduation exercises, and Lillie went, because it would have been rude not to go. But she sat far back in a corner with her feet tucked under her chair and her cup of tea held close to her chest, as though that would make her invisible.

It was on a sticky hot day in late August—a day when the humidity was so high that even the mills seemed to lay and pant like huge animals instead of sending forth lively sounds of steam and whistles, bellers and chasers, tongs—that Lillie coming in to her upstairs parlor in the middle of the morning from her marketing saw Violet waiting for her, and she stopped in the doorway to savor the girl's beauty. Violet had on a pale green linen dress and Lillie was glad to see that it was long enough to show only a little of her white silk stockings above her buckskin pumps. Violet's clothes were plain and good, just as Lillie had wanted them, and she didn't follow any of the extremes of fashion. Her dark hair had been curled in long curls and then cooped up with a big comb to clear her neck. She was standing at the window of the upstairs sitting room, looking down between the stiffly starched lace curtains at the street below.

Lillie spoke her name and the girl swung around, and Lillie stopped in stark terror at the expression on her face. In Juteville that meant only one thing. One hand crept up to Lillie's throat and she asked in a husky voice, "Violet! My God! Are you in trouble?"

Violet stumbled across the room into Lillie's arms and began to cry convulsively, and Lillie held her close to her while her mind groped around in crazy, hazy circles, the most coherent thought being, "Pud. He's a big man. He'll tear him apart, whoever he is, with his bare hands. He'll do it for me."

Lillie's sitting down in the chair opposite her pulled Lillie together. "Well, what are you crying about?" she asked brusquely. "You're married to a man you love and you're going to have a baby. What more could you ask?"

"They won't like me," Violet sobbed and buried her face in her hands. "I love Laurie so."

Company 'I' Guardsmen To Camp At Indiantown Gap

A memorial service in honor of 33,054 Pennsylvanians who were killed in World War I will highlight the four-day annual encampment of the Pennsylvania Guard at the Indiantown Gap military reservation September 13-16.

The memorial exercises, set for Sunday, September 15, will follow a review of the guard officers of the new Pennsylvania National Guard and the Pennsylvania State Police. Governor Edward Martin and Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson will speak.

The encampment, which may be the final one for the military organization set up at the start of World War II to replace the federalized National Guard, will bring approximately 1,600 officers and men to Indiantown.

The training will be directed by Brig. Gen. Frank A. Weber, deputy adjutant general, who succeeded to the command of the guard last May following the resignation of Maj. Gen. Milton G. Baker, its head during the war period.

Overall supervision of the encampment will be under Brig. Gen. Robert M. Vail, adjutant general. Guard units which will participate will include the 4th Infantry Regiment, commanded by Col. Clifford H. Bortz, of Allentown, and including units from Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Allentown, Lancaster, Chester, Bethlehem, Wilkes-Barre and Easton.

The 16th Infantry Regiment, headed by Col. Earle D. McGraw, of Oil City, and comprising units from Oil City, Corry, Meadville, Butler, Altoona, Clearfield, Bradford, Erie and Warren; and engineer battalions, special weapons companies and bands from Philadelphia and Pittsburgh and a mechanized troop from Gettysburg.

The guard members will receive training in the rifle, machine gun and pistol ranges, close order drills, maneuvers, bivouacs and field problems.

Coincidentally, some 300 officers of the new Pennsylvania National Guard, which will eventually replace the old National Guard, will be in the area.

Fifteen Cars of Time Freight Are Wrecked At Irvine

One of the worst freight wrecks to take place in this vicinity took place last night at 11:27. When a truck on the fifth car back of the engine of Eastbound Time Freight W. 2, Engine 1194 broke. The truck allowed the car to drop and as it was loaded with ore fourteen cars were dragged off the rails before the train was stopped. The cars were tossed about like skelter and one was thrown across tracks of the New York Central railroad effectually closing that line.

The train was composed of mixed freight and several cars of ore were in the train along with box cars of merchandise, etc. The cars were sent reeling crazily off the tracks and loads of ore were dumped promiscuously along the right of way.

Wrecking crews from Warren and Erie were summoned and the men went to work. It will be late tonight when the rails are cleared and repairs made to the torn up tracks. Train 581 west bound this morning and Train 970 east bound were both detained by way of Oil City. Taxicabs were used to handle the passengers between Warren and Corry.

There were no personal injuries sustained by the train crew and no estimate has been made of the loss.

Wash benches and swivel wheels will eliminate much of the stooping and heavy lifting of wash baskets on laundry day.

Henri Becquerel discovered radioactivity in 1896.

Much Interest Is Shown In Registrations

For the accommodation of citizens who desire to qualify to vote at the general election November 5th, the county commissioners have arranged a schedule of office hours this week for the convenience of those who may not be able to go to the court house during the day.

Announcement is made in another column that on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the office of registration clerk will be kept open from nine a. m. until nine p. m.

Complying to a petition received a special registration will be held in the Fourth Ward polling place Wednesday from twelve to one o'clock and three to six p. m.

New registrations already received at the court house indicate considerable interest in the present campaign leading up to the election the first Tuesday in November.

Leaders of both major parties are apparently hard at work trying to boost registration figures.

HAD NOVEL FEATURE
North Warren's Fire Department had one of the most novel displays in the firemen's parade at Clarendon last Saturday evening. A "Chic Sales" mounted on a truck kept the crowd roaring with the antics of the firemen who rode with the contraption. It is to be regretted that mention of this department was omitted in the story of the celebration Monday evening.

BUYS THE PINES

Harold Averill, of Corry, has purchased The Pines service station, restaurant and camp near Wrightsville, from A. I. and Kenneth Watrous, who have operated and developed the resort over the past 13 years. The new owners plan to take possession as soon as the beer license is transferred. The former owners will leave soon for Florida, where they have spent their winters in the past.

CITY TICKET OFFICE

A city ticket office is being maintained by the New York Central Railroad at its station, 820 Fourth avenue. Tickets to all points are being sold there and reservations for Pullman, private cars and coach seats can be made. All types of tickets are sold and this will prove a great convenience for the public here. The telephone number of the local office is 143.

STORES TO CLOSE

It has been decided by a large majority of the Retail Merchants affiliated with the Warren Chamber of Commerce, to continue to close Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock throughout the year with the exception of the months of November and December. Merchants are urged to go along 100 per cent with the retailers' committee. The A. and P. Super Market and Loblaw's will close during the period and other food stores will undoubtedly follow suit.

URGES ACTION NOW

Sec. Frank Kottcamp, of the Warren Chamber of Commerce, reports that letters have been sent out with forms to be filled in by persons having rooms and accommodations for hunters during the bear and deer season. The returns have been small and seemingly carelessness is to blame. Many annually come to this county and rooms must be secured for them. Any persons in Warren or in the county having quarters that can be rented are asked to cooperate and to do it now. A card will bring a form to be filled out, giving details. The list is annually printed by the Chamber of Commerce and over 2,000 copies are circulated. There is no charge for the listing of the rooms and it is an opportunity to help place Warren on the map.

"Christmas Trees" every day

at the Warren
Central Office

WHEN YOU LIFT your telephone receiver to make a call, a little light glows on the switchboard at the central office.

Sometimes so many lights come on at once that the board looks like a Christmas tree! This happens particularly at the rush hours, late in the morning and early in the evening.

Sometimes we just can't handle the load without delays.

So, if the operator can't answer immediately when you lift the receiver, we hope you'll understand. This situation is temporary. Although we've stretched our switchboard facilities to provide service sooner for the many people waiting for telephones, we've ordered tons of new facilities which will make your service better than ever.

P. S.—If you'll make your calls before or after the peak hours, it's likely that you'll find no delay at all.

BARNES

Barnes, Sept. 4—Thursday evening, August 29, 1946, was Community church night, at the Barnes Methodist church. During the past month or so, the church has been completely renovated and repaired and church night was planned in commemoration.

The entire interior of the sanctuary was repainted through the generosity of C. R. McNeal. Other needed repairs were sponsored by the Women's Society for Christian Service, which included cleaning and repainting the entire basement and a new roof. George Christian was donor for the rebuilding of the furnace. A very interesting program was given in the auditorium, beginning promptly at 7:30 p. m. and was as follows:

Hymn by the congregation, Number 2.

Responsive reading, (The House of God).

Prayer, Rev. Palmer Taylor.

Song, David Christian, Roger Rue, Sunday school class 2-3.

Presentation of new flags, Donald Stover, Raymond Hahn,

Mrs. Arthur Irvine, Presentation of new hymnals.

Phyllis Irvine, Shirley Stover, Nancy Miller.

Acceptance of flag and hymnals, Rev. Palmer N. Taylor.

History of Barnes church, Marjorie Hoover.

Song, "This Is Our Church" S. S. Class 4—Soloist, Barbara Lyle.

Piano solo—Helen Christian.

Violin solo—Lyman Taylor.

Hymn by the congregation and Benediction by Rev. Taylor.

The congregation was then invited to the basement, where refreshments were served from a very attractively arranged tea table. Mrs. D. R. Titus, one of the older members of the church and Mrs. L. L. Huston, retiring president of the Women's Society for Christian Service, poured. A very pleasant social hour followed.

The committees in charge of the repairing of the church need to be commended for their efficient work.

To remove mildew from a shower curtain, wash it in hot suds, then moisten the spots with lemon juice, salt and hang the curtain in the sun to dry.

Entertainment—Bill Simonsen, Irene Dorick, L. Mack, Addison White.

Transportation—P. C. Ostergard, Evelyn Johnson, Lenore Jordan and Larry Linder.

All set for dinner at 6

With her fully automatic ELECTRIC RANGE

"Let's see now—meal all prepared and in the oven; timer set for 'on' at three and 'off' at six. That's all we have to think about. Our automatic electric range will do the rest. So away we go on our shopping spree" : : : "Can we go to a movie, too, Mommie?" : : : "Yes, dear, I think we can take in a movie too."

So off they go early in the afternoon, yet when they get home about six, supper will be ready, cooked to a turn and packed with nourishment. All they have to do is put it on the table and sit down : : : it's almost like having a cook!

Electric Cooking is clean, too, because there isn't anything to make dirt. Pots and pans stay shiny and walls stay clean longer.

Just as you wonder now how you ever managed without your electric refrigerator, a new electric range will make you wonder how you ever got along without electric cooking. Go modern—do it electrically.

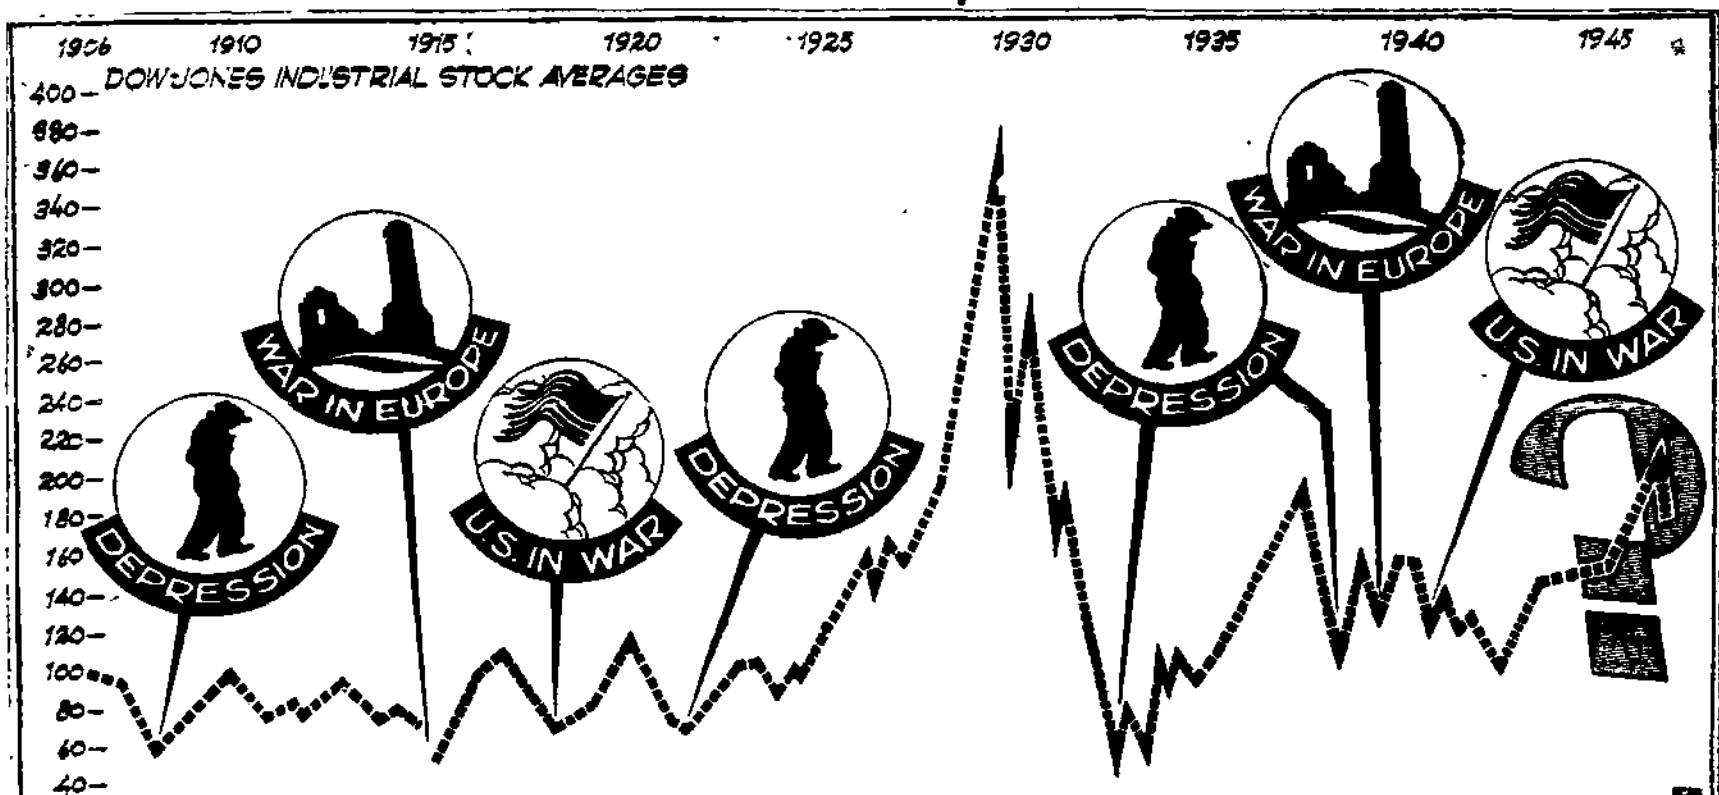

See your electric range dealer about one of these new fully automatic electric ranges.

How Stock Crashes Usually Foreshadow Trouble

AP Newsfeatures

THE recent decline in New York Stock Market prices has been interpreted by some analysts as a warning of trouble ahead for the United States. As the above chart shows, the steepest declines in market history have been forecasts of future danger. The great big bull market of 1924-1929, however, was interrupted by two breaks—although not so severe as the recent one—which were followed by sharply rising prices.
